

Who can grant or revoke authority?

There are different levels of Company Authority and confidentiality rules that apply to the Company Authority management system.

Once you have Company Authority for a company, when you view the 'Company Details' screen you will also see an Authority tab. What you see here depends on your level of authority.

Directors with Company Authority will be able to see the details of all authorised persons, including:

- any pending applications, and
- historical data for authority requests.
- Authorised persons (such as accountants and lawyers) are not able to see details of other authorised persons. This is to ensure confidentiality.

So who can do what?

- Directors can approve or reject Company Authority requests for other directors and authorised persons and can revoke Company Authority for directors and authorised persons.
- A director's Company Authority is revoked once they cease to hold office (for example, once their resignation notified to the Registrar of Companies).
- Authorised persons can approve or reject requests only for other directors.
